Ford Piquette Avenue Plant- in Detroit, MI. Enjoy a guided tour of the birthplace of the Ford Model T car. The Ford Piquette Avenue Plant is recognized as one of the most significant automotive heritage sites in the world. The 1858 intersection of two railroad lines—Detroit & Milwaukee, and Chicago and Detroit & Canada Grand Trunk Junction—had created a natural location for Detroit manufacturing, with easy access to national distribution by rail. Called Milwaukee Junction, it became the hub of Detroit’s emerging auto industry in the early 1900s. It was a natural choice for Ford Motor Company’s new plant in 1904. Please note: museum floors are uneven in some areas in this century-old building.

Lunch- Enjoy a full, sit-down meal at a local favorite in between our museum visits!

Stahls Auto Museum- in New Baltimore, MI. Admission included. The Stahl Museum has over 80 cars on display ranging from the 1886 Daimler prototype to the muscle cars of the 1960s with special emphasis on the great cars of the 1930s and 1940s, a period of style and constant evolution. The collection contains decades of gas pumps along with porcelain steel and neon signs from the 1920s, 30s, 40s, and 50s. The Stahl Museum is also home to a number of restored and operational automated musical instruments dating from the early 20th century.
